

ADOPT A WATER QUALITY SITE

Potomac Riverkeeper Network's Community Science Water Quality Monitoring is a cornerstone for scientifically-rigorous and publicly-accessible water quality data on the Potomac River. Since the Potomac Interceptor sewage spill, this program has served as a trusted source for crucial monitoring results and public health information. Yet, it is our most underfunded program! Community groups, funders or individuals can now come together to sponsor their favorite site so we can continue to provide reliable WQM data wherever you recreate, all summer long.

SPONSORSHIP: $2,500

BENEFITS

A tour of or cruise aboard our Sea Dog WQM Lab/Research Vessel

Recognition on the Potomac Riverkeeper Network webpage

EFFORTS SUPPORTED

Recruitment, training and management for WQM volunteers

Lab maintenance and equipment, collection supplies, and scientific sample analysis

Published data from your site every week

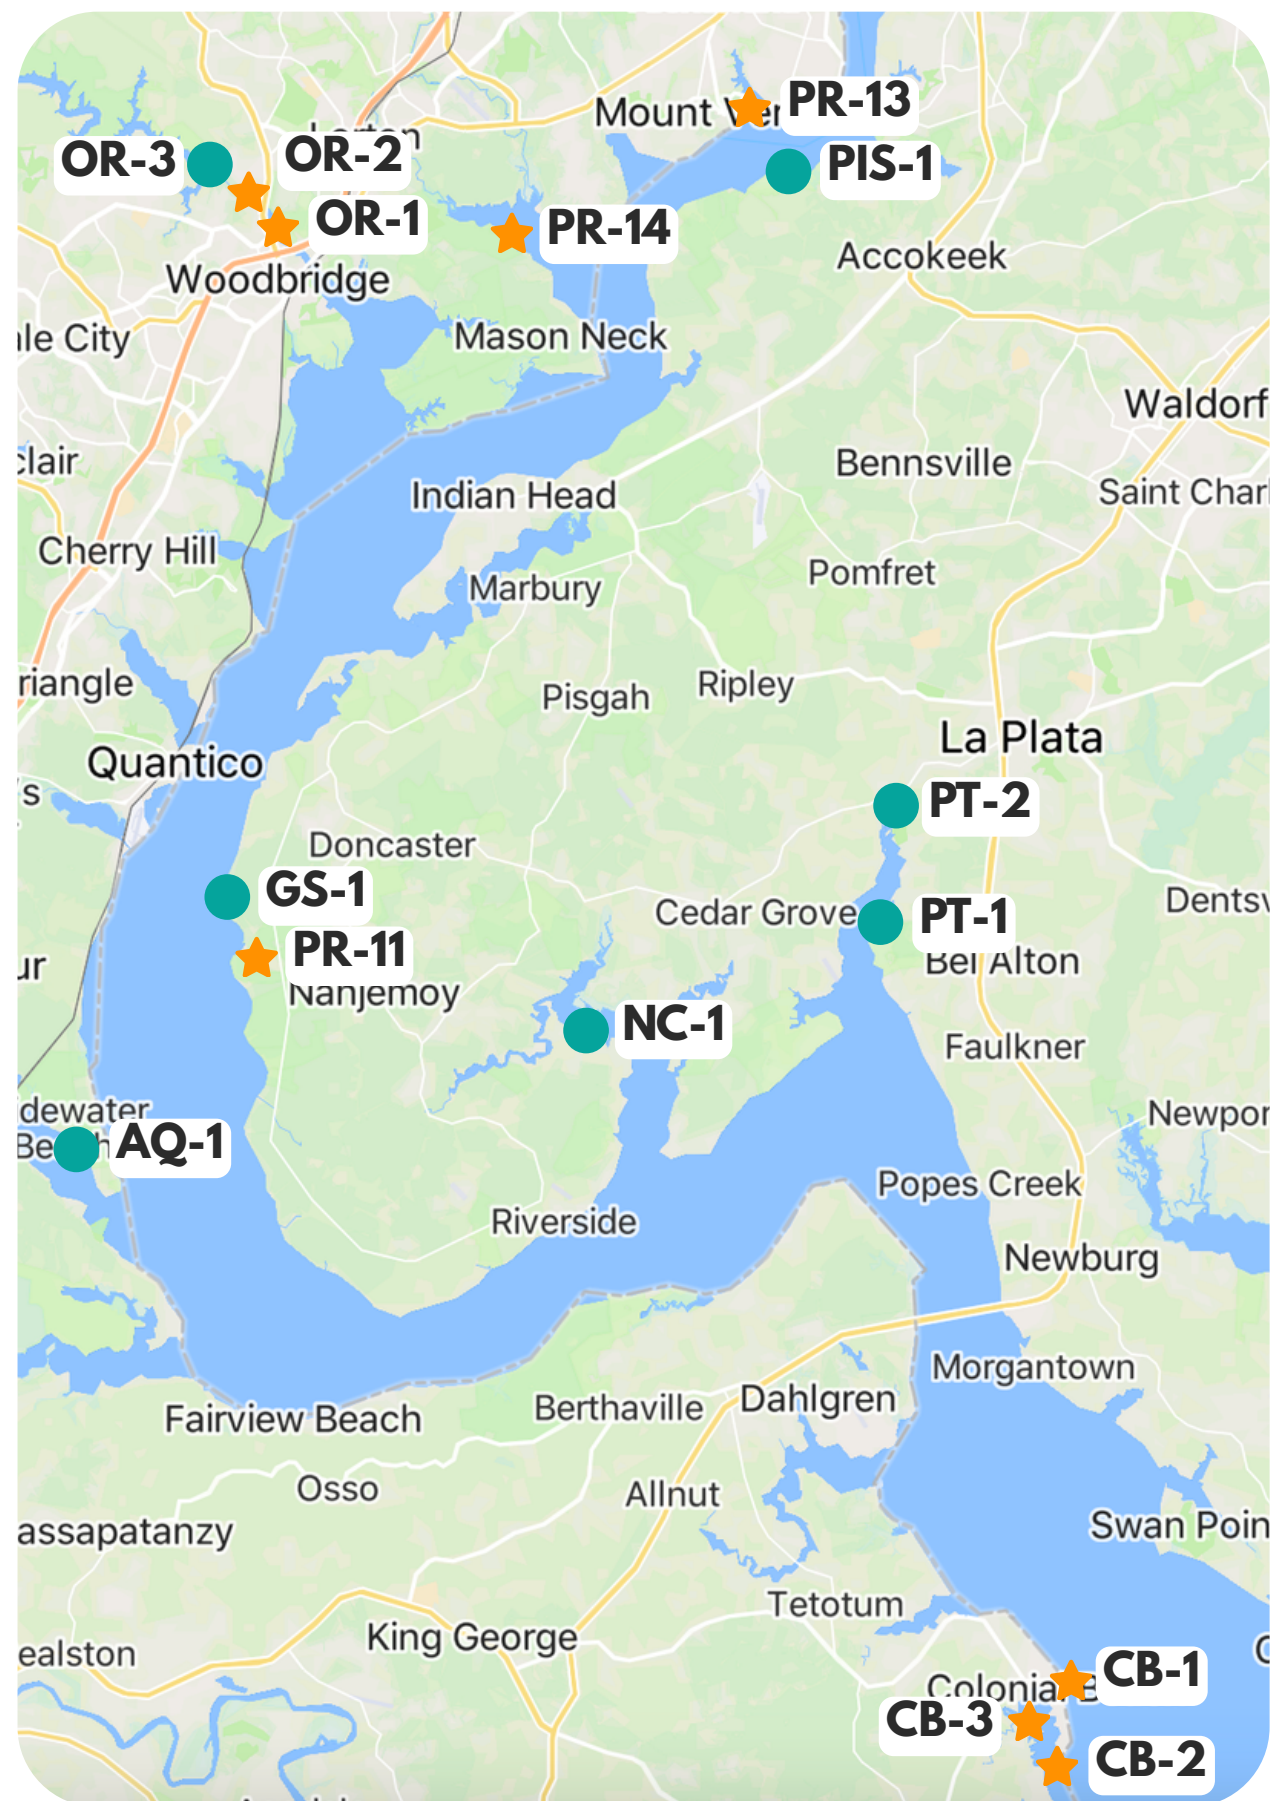

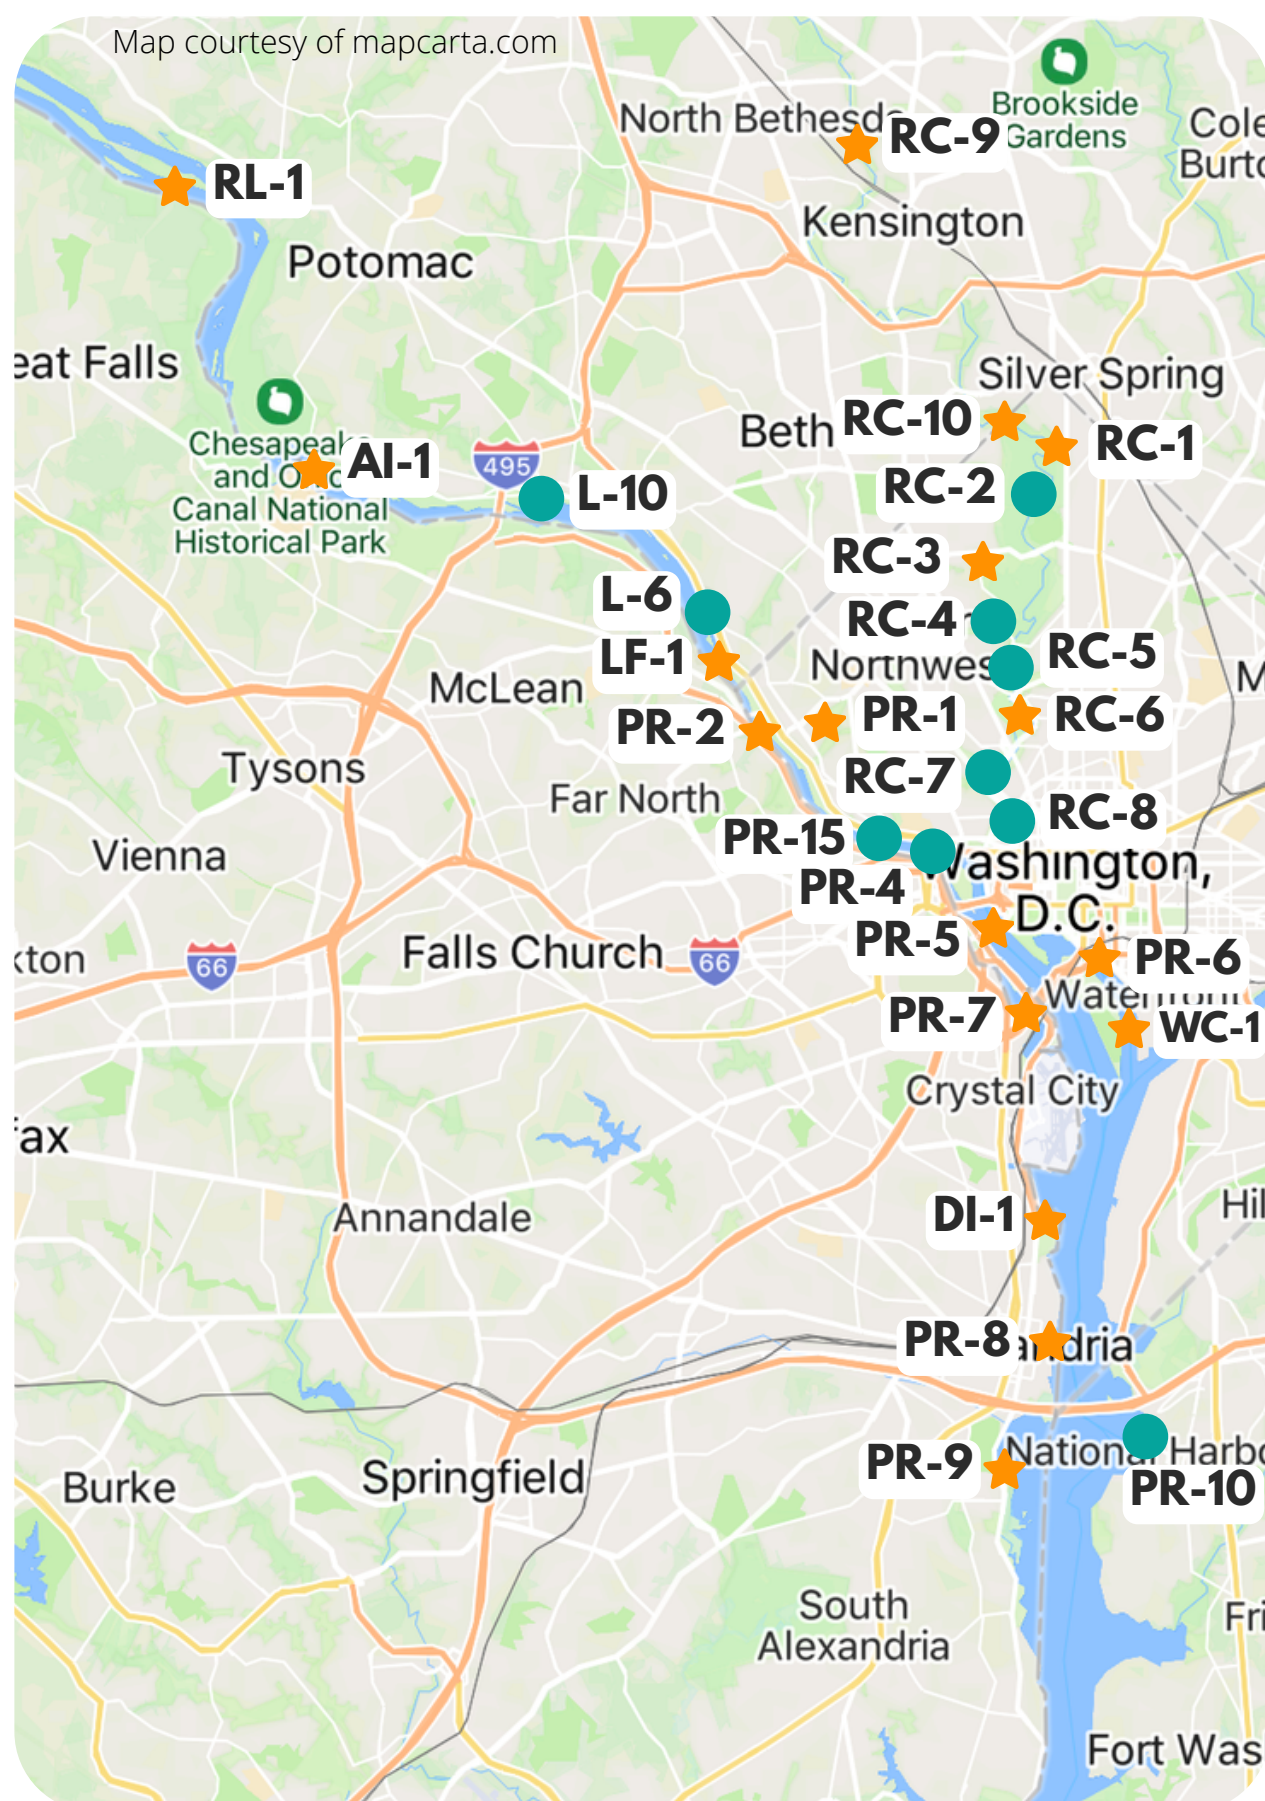

Where possible, expanded emergency testing at new sites, with increased frequency, and for new toxins
